Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/16/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicant argues that Wachob does not teach a method for managing group assignment rules by processing any input from the viewer to locally modify or override any of the remotely assigned group assignment rules associated with the viewer's set top terminal." The applicant agrees that Wachob teaches a method for modifying a locally assigned group demographic, but this assigned group is not assigned remotely (column 7, lines 37-60). Wachob is used to modify the teaching of McKenna, which teaches remotely assigned groups (column 10, line 64 to column 11, line 4). McKenna also teaches where multiple group assignments can be assigned to a household (column 19, lines 9-15). It is the opinion of the examiner that one would use the demographic modifying taught by Wachob (column 7, lines 37-60; figure 2) to select a first user group and then override that group by selecting another group. This overriding would be overriding the remotely assigned group that is taught by McKenna and would therefore meet the claimed limitation.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Justin E. Shepard whose telephone number is (571) 272-5967. The examiner can normally be reached on 7:30-5 M-F.
